

To Whom it May Concern

Wed 8th July 2009

My name is Danny Rooke and I am the Project / Operations Manager for PRP Diagnostic Imaging.

During the past 8 months, Red Eye Constructions have completed three radiology fit outs for PRP Diagnostic Imaging – being at Tuggerah, Dubbo and Eastwood.

The Eastwood project specifically involved a complete refurbishment and additions to an existing heritage style home. The projects that Red Eye Constructions have completed for PRP Radiology have ranged in value from $600,000 to $1,200,000 with each project being executed within very tight timeframes.

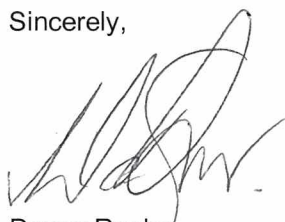

I found that Red Eye Constructions provided a professional and superior level of site supervision for each project with any issues being dealt with efficiently and without consequence. Occupational Health and Safety was given top priority on all three jobs with there being no issues to record at any of the three sites.

The Directors of Red Eye Constructions, Brett Craig and Brad Ridge, are both very professional, while also maintaining a friendly persona when dealing with their clients. I found both Brett and Brad extremely easy to work with during all facets of our projects.

PRP Radiology would definitely consider using Red Eye Constructions for any future projects.

I highly recommend Red Eye Constructions to any potential client.

Sincerely,

Danny Rooke
Project Manager
